The case of the Commonwealth against A. S. Berry and members of the City Council, who are charged with obstructing the Newport & Dayton Street Railroad Company from the use of their track, was tried before Judge Berry, of the County Court, this morning, when the County Attorney handed in the following statement to the Court upon which to base a motion to dismiss the warrant. He says: "Though a public offense has been committed, it is probable it was done under a mistaken sense of duty, and as this is a controversy between the city of Newport and the Newport & Dayton Street Railroad Company, and as the questions at issue are now being litigated in civil suits now pending between the parties in other courts, and as the machinery of the criminal jurisdiction of the courts should never be exercised or resorted to, to settle differences between individuals and corporations, the Commonwealth desires a dismissal." The motion was allowed to be entered and the defendants discharged.

How prone we are to impute to others motives which we ourselves have, and easily under such circumstances we can inflict a terrible wound upon a pure person's feelings or reputation! We must walk softly amid our fellows, and judge as we would be judged.

Cure for the Toothache.—Tie up the face in flint, and apply a red-hot poker gratefully to the nerve. In a short time a grateful sensation of warmth will be felt in the lower extremities, and then the tooth must be promptly extracted. The same poker will do any number of times.

If you do not begin you will never come to the end. The first seed pulled up in the garden, the first seed sown in the ground, the first shilling put in the savings' bank, and the first mile traveled on a journey, are all important things; they make a beginning, and thereby give a hope, a promise, a pledge; an assurance that you are in earnest.

The everyday cares and duties which men call rudimentary are the weights and counterpoises of the clock of time, giving its pendulum a true vibration, and its hand a regular motion, and when they cease to hang upon the wheels the pendulum no longer swings, the hands no longer move, the clock stands still.

There is something in the temper of men so adverse to boisterous and severe treatment that he who has reason to fear his point that way, instead of prevailing, generally leaves the mind of him whom he has attempted in a more confirmed and obstinate situation than he found it as first. Bitter words and hard usage freeze the heart into a kind of obduracy which mild persuasion and gentle language only can dissolve and soothe.

Half the people of the world are idle for want of seeing over their eyes to set them to work. The advice which Haydon gave to the erratic poet Keats, to settle down to some definite purpose, needs to be given to almost one-half of mankind. There are very few persons but would find themselves comfortably well off if a hundred pursuits and sticks to it. Industry and economy will make a most wonderful change in many households.

HIS CAKE WAS NOT DOUGH.

August Sirobomberg, a baker employed at No. 111 Look street, stole a board from a lumber yard last night, and as a consequence, slept on the soft side of a slab in the Hammond-street Station. It seems that the unfortunate cake-maker filled his oven with bread, started the fire and then went to a lumber yard close by to lay in a fresh supply of fuel.

The police caught him in the act, and took him and the board to the station-house, where all night long he piteously cried: "O meester, meester, let me out wunst, just wunst! I got one hundred dollars worth bread in the stove and he'll burn up! O meester, meester!"

This morning the only prosecuting witness was the board, and the man's case was dismissed, and he was permitted to go and attend to his bread. He found it in a cremated state.

BOUND OVER.

The Seypher Young shooting case, which occurred the 12th of last June, and was continued from that time, owing to the serious condition of the wounded man, was called in the Police Court this morning.

It will be remembered that on the night in question a row occurred on the corner of Third and Elm streets, in which Young was engaged.

The officer on duty started to make an arrest, and called on John Seypher to assist, and Young was left in a charge and they started to the Station-house.

Near the corner of Third and Central avenue the prisoner broke away, and ran toward Mulberry street. Seypher claims to have fallen in the pursuit of the prisoner, and while falling his pistol was discharged, the ball taking effect near the shoulder of Young, passing in and becoming imbedded, it is supposed, in his lungs.

Mr. Campbell represented the defense, and argued the case quite at length to prove accidental shooting.

The Court said that it was highly probable it was not an accident, and he could not see how, under the existing circumstances, such a shot could be made by accident.

Seypher was bound over to the Court of Common Pleas to appear on his own recognizance.

THE COURTS.

In the case of Marvin A. Porter against James H. Laws. Judgment was given for the defendant. This case was a proceeding to subject a stockholder's stock to the payment of a judgment.

In the case of Joseph C. Woodruff, administrator of Wm. Tilden, against Edward A. Smith, which was an action to revive a judgment obtained against the latter. An entry was ordered reviving the judgment.

In the action of Abraham Epstein against F. Talke upon a note, the jury rendered a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $325.

The jury disagreed in the case J. H. Ahlbrandt against the executors of J. F. Strunk and others.
